INTRODUCES

Arts Al Fresco

A Year-Round Art Series in Support of Dallas Emerging Artists

The Avanti Arts Al Fresco series provides a springboard to emerging local artists and celebrates the artistic soul of Dallas' Uptown neighborhood. Arts Al Fresco gives exposure to up-and-coming artists by providing them a high traffic venue to showcase their work. Since April 2018, the white walls of the Avanti restaurant's patio have become the exhibition space to a select group of local artists, allowing them to make their creative debut in the vibrant Dallas Uptown scene.

Every two months, Arts Al Fresco features a new artist, giving artists who are beginning their creative journey a chance to exhibit and the opportunity to share with the public their inspiration and vision of the world.

FEATURING

NELL POTASZNIK

Although raised in Texas, the artist's European family background has always been of great influence. A graduate of The School of Visual Arts at University of North Texas, in 2008, Nell Potaszni was chosen to participate in an artist exchange program with luxury fashion house Hermès of Paris. In 2016, she founded an arts based collaborative, The York Street Project in South Dallas. Its mission is to help support local artists who don't have access to affordable studio space.

"I am very interested in investigating the body's functions with various materials. The lines and shapes that form from circulating in the body are a prevailing theme in my work. My work deals with the human body specifically the female image. The human body, whether portrayed healthy or ailing, relates to the images found in my work."
